LATEST NEWS

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

The following epitome of the latest news by telegraph, from all quarters, is taken from our colleagues—

Rosario 31.

Twenty kilometres of earthworks on the Western Santa Fé Railway are already finished. The Liskeard and Lamport have brought 10 kilometres of rails. 20 waggons also arrived.

Great storm last night.

Thermometer has fallen 20 degrees.

Custom House yielded 261,000 pats to yesterday.

Little business doing.

Montevideo 31.

José P Ramirez is better.

All the numbers of the B. A. Nacion were seized here to-day.

Capital article in Siglo on financial situation.

Jupiter and Silex go up.

Weather wet and inclement.

Minister Terra seriously ill.

Great crowd in Senate to-day to hear debate, just begun.

TRANSANDINE RAILWAY.

This great continental enterprize is at last freed from the impediments which so long checked the commencement of the works. Governor Rocha very properly interfered in the dispute that arose about connecting the new line with the Western Railway at Mercedes, and, true to his progressive programme of railways for the million, he has stopped the newspaper correspondence, and thus turned the first sod of the Transandine Railway.

Mr. John E. Clark, the concessionaire of the line, in a complimentary letter to the Nacion, accords full praise to our Governor, and he also exculpates Dr. Jorge, President of the Railway Board, from all hostility to his great enterprise; thus this most bitter question between the two railways has, by the tact and good will of our Governor, been finally settled, and now the works begin in real earnest, and Ho! for the beautiful West.

As most people now-a-days carry maps in their pockets of this and the adjoining provinces, with the Government four-league lots copied by photograph, it will be no great trouble for the majority of those friends to turn to those marks, and pin-mark the "Appian Way" which the genius of Clark is about to construct through camps, if not the richest, certainly the most speculative in all this Republic. Let us hope that as the new line emerges from the chacras of Mercedes, no new Argentine Eris will spring up to fling amongst the sheepfarmers, estancieros and railway contractors another apple of discord.

Around the Mercedes railway station are piled sufficient railway materials to make the line out to this wide, wide camp, which we all possess, all buy, but which few have ever seen. That the day will come when all these camps will be stocked with cattle, we have no more doubt than that every league along the route of the new railway is dead cheap at 250,000m/n. The President of the Republic gives it as his opinion that before four years are about, our horned cattle will count 28 millions. Mr. Casey, who certainly must be accepted as an authority on this subject, tells us that the increase of stock in the Plate now calls for 2,000 fresh leagues of land ever year, and as this Transandine railway runs through the greatest zone of estancia land in the whole country, we admit the fact, that our vast Western prairies will be called into new life by this magnificent enterprise.

If every league of land on either side of the Western Railway from Lujan to Pergamino is worth 3 millions 8m/n, surely it is not too much to estimate that every league along the Transandine line, Gainza and San Luis will be dead cheap at 500,000m/n when the road is made. We live in no ordinary times, the whole country is jumping under our feet. Were these noble camps of our Western plains in Texas or Manitoba they would be infinitely more valuable, although infinitely less fertile. The fault of all this is our own, as people in Europe, Canada and the United States would hardly credit the fact, that every acre of this portion of the Transandine Railway route has a rich, black, fertile soil, of from 28 to 35 inches deep.

We know of no greater, grander, or more important enterprise in the this country than this Transandine Railway; when complete it will fill our capital with European tourists, and we shall require half-a-dozen more Hotels de la Paix and Provence for the English and American travellers that will come out to the Plate to have a look at the Andes.

This Transandine Railway will run through the magnificent lands of Messrs. Cernadas and Salas, at Gainza, and connect them with the Capital, and as many of our friends have recently purchased from these gentlemen several square leagues out there, with a view to stock and settle on same, we congratulate them on their purchase, as before a year is about, the train from town will stop at the Gainza station.

The works of the new road, we believe, begin next week, and will be pushed ahead as fast as British capital and British enterprize can effect. We congratulate the country on this glorious news.

NATIONAL GOVERNMENT SURVEYS.

That there has been great and needless delay in the measurement of some of the National Government lands sold to the public, admits of no manner of doubt, since to this very hour the National Government lands on the Colorado, on the Rio Negro, and all along the sea coast from Bahia Blanca to Patagones, although sold by the Government to the public in 1879, are still unsurveyed, and hence cannot be delivered to the purchasers, which is a matter of serious loss to some and of great inconvenience to others.

These lands were, at an immense cost and inconvenience, measured and surveyed by Sr. Cascallares for the National Government in the year 1880, but this survey was never approved of by the Government, owing to the fact that many of the lots marked and numbered on the provisional map fell in the sea, and the area of land estimated in the section was found to be short and wanting. Moreover, as the Government Surveyor approached Patagones he found that a very large district was held, owned and occupied by people who had lived on these lands for thirty or forty years, and many of whom held indisputable title-deeds from the Government of Buenos Ayres.

Owing to the many questions that arose between the occupiers of these lands and the holders of "boletos" whose numbered lots represented same, a very serious difficulty arose, and the Minister gave notice to these parties, calling on them to send in their claims and titles to such lands. It was thought that when the term mentioned for the presentation of such claims expired, all questions would be at an end; but then a fresh difficulty arose, namely, that the Engineer, by drawing his base line from the Colorado to Rio Negro too acutely, had reduced the dimensions of the section, and finally, we believe, it was determined to order a new survey of the whole section.

Why this new survey has been so long postponed, we leave to Mr. White, the Chief of the Department, to say; but it is certainly high time that some action be taken in the matter, and either the old survey be approved or a new survey at once carried out.

We noted the other day that the National Government organ, the Tribuna Nacional, in an interesting article on the question of public lands, gives many pleasing items respecting the surveys of the public lands just concluded and at present going on.

Messrs. Balbin and Pico, Government Surveyors, have just measured and divided into "suertes" of estancias 1000 leagues of land between the Cordillera, the 10th Meridian, and the rivers Barranca, Nauquen and Agui.

Messrs. Moreno and Alsina, Government Surveyors, are at present surveying 800 leagues of land lying between the Nauquen and Limay, and on the triangle.

Mr. Telemachus Gonsalez has just concluded the survey of all the lands on the south bank of the Rio Negro, from Patagones to Choel-e-Choel, divided into suertes of estancias which are to be sold.

Don A. Surdeau has just contracted with the Government to measure 100 leagues in the Gran Chaco, which will form the basis of future sales by the Government.

Mr. Balbin has contracted with the Government for the survey and division of the lands between the Trocoman and Curre Lenon, at the base of the Andes—all for colonies.

Mr. R. Hernandez has also contracted for the survey of the Misiones lands and the marking out the lands for two colonies.

Mr. Orlandini has just finished the survey and delivery to the colonists of the lands at the Avellaneda Colony; Mr. Tassier has done the same at the Resistencia Colony. Mr. Grawel is doing the same at Formosa, and Don Jose Onetto is now on his way down to Santa Cruz and Port Deseado, to report to Government on the possibility of starting colonies down there. And now the National Government, at the instance of Governor Winter of Patagones, has ordered three colonies to be marked out at Potrero Cerrado, Rincon Lenares, and Conesa.

From the foregoing data, which come to us from an official source, will be seen the stupendous surveys at present going on for account of the National Government; but we again call the attention of the Minister of the Interior to that section surveyed by Cascallares, the lands of which to this hour are lying idle, owing to the delay in the approval of the survey.

"Ah, excuse me," exclaimed an Arkansas man as he knocked down a stranger in the street: "I thought that you were a friend of mine. My eyesight is failing me, so that I'll have to wear glasses."

THE LONQUIMAY AFFAIR.

The following is a precis of the Chilian official report on the encounter between the Chilian and Argentine troops on the Andes.

On February 16th, while ten Argentine soldiers were descending the Andes, on the Chilian side, to Lake Rucanuco, they met an Indian boy caring some sheep. They seized the sheep, and the boy fled to the woods. The soldiers went on Westward to the river Bio-Bio, where they met five Indians whom they took captives, retiring through the nearest wood. On the same evening a detachment of 30 men came over the same ground and bivouacked near Guayaltue.

On that night and following day the Indians sent "chasques" to say that the Argentines were seizing them, and if troops were not sent to their aid, they would themselves attack the invaders.

Lieutenant Rodriguez had written peremptory orders to do nothing without informing Commander Cid, at Lonquimay Fort, 30 kilometers off; nevertheless he decided to march towards the Argentines to prevent a fight between them and the Indians.

He took 67 men (32 mounted) and discovered the Argentines on a sandy waste, with the Indians hovering on their rear. When the Argentines saw our men they dismounted and took position in a dry arroyo. The Cacique Quenpo here joined Rodriguez and told him he had not attacked the Argentines yet. The Lieutenant told him to keep at the same distance from them, and also to dismount his lances, which he did. This conference was held in the pass of the river, and when Rodriguez gained the bank, the Argentines fired two shots. He then ordered his men to dismount and sent Ensign Nora Buena forward with a white flag; but he was hotly fired on, and one man was wounded.

Rodriguez now lost his coolness and ordered his men to fire, and, as he soon saw they could not shoot well, he ordered a bayonet charge. His men advanced in skirmishing order to within 20 paces of the Argentines, when it suddenly struck him that he was disobeying his orders and incurring serious responsibilities, so he at once ordered a retreat.

His explanation of this order is that he feared the Indians would attack the enemy and increase the confusion. Even after the action Quenpo wanted to do so, and had to be threatened to make him desist.

The Argentines retired on foot, leaving their dead, their horses, and several things behind them. We left six men on the field. A few days after two of them were found with their throats cut.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL ITEMS.

London, March 2, 1883.

The "Fortnightly Review" for this month contains an article headed "Brazil and the Railways," by Mr. Charles Waring, well known in former years as a member of a firm of contractors. He alludes to the spurious prosperity of the years preceding the panic of 1875, when Great Britain manufactured, produced, exported and sold large quantities of merchandize, at apparently a large profit, and even received payment for her goods in cash. "Yet," he says, "as a matter of fact, she herself provided the money." He means the goods were paid for from the money England advanced on account of foreign loans and enterprises. The repudiation of the debts incurred by foreign countries led to a general mistrust of such securities, and Mr. Waring thinks it is to that fact we are to attribute the recent rise in home and colonial securities. He then adds—"Of the hundreds of millions loaned or invested abroad in the few years of inflation, the greater portion went to the New World, and it was sent there with disastrous results. Even the U. States, solvent as a country, has failed to pay interest on a great portion of the British capital then invested in her railroads; and whilst this has been the case with the Great Republic most of the other States—Mexico and Peru, Guatemala and Honduras, Costa Rica and Ecuador, Bolivia and Uruguay—have become synonymous for repudiation and insolvency. The consequence is, that the ordinary investor lumps together all South American Securities, the good, the bad, and the indifferent. He forgets the exceptions to the general rule of default that three of the States—Chile, the Argentine Republic and Brazil have faithfully fulfilled their engagements."

Mr. Waring then proceeds to describe the empire of Brazil and her immense resources, and in selecting that country he has no desire, he says, to disparage the prospects offered by either Chile or the Argentine Confederation. Chile, he thinks, is a little in financial confusion, in consequence of the war with Peru, and, moreover, her extent of territory is comparatively small, and she is too much dependent on the production of copper. As for the Argentine Confederation, Mr. Waring admits her resources are boundless—then comes the inevitable —but, compared with Brazil, its Government is unsettled. "Brazil, on the other hand," he says, "possesses not only unlimited resources of the most varied nature, but also enjoys the advantage of a settled Government, in the form of a limited Monarchy such as few countries but our own can boast."

Then follows the conventional length and breadth, and the square miles of territory—allusion to the slaves, still a tenth of the whole population—to the Emperor, the Comte d'Eu, the railways and the rest, not forgetting that "there are no pretenders to the throne, whilst the exhibition of republican misrule in the other South American States, must endear their own form of Government to the Brazilians."

There is one important reminder in Mr. Waring's article. He says the war with Paraguay, although successful, has left bitter experiences. It threw back Brazil a whole decade, and she is only just recovering from its effects Mr. Waring is of the opinion that to litigate an immense and sparsely-peopled country like Brazil could have any dispute in regard to frontiers that would occasion war, is "to travel in search of difficulties."

There arises the question, is this article in the "Fortnightly," the herald of some new Brazilian railway coming into the market? It can scarcely be another loan. This market may entertain another pull from Brazil, but it is certainly sickened of "unsettled institutions," which seem synonymous with unsettled accounts. South American Republics have arrived at that position when they have fairly to take their choice between peace and barbarism. In these days poverty means barbarism.

The Corporation of Foreign Bondholders, which has long been an enigma, has latterly been the object of some criticism. It was formed in 1868. The secretary was, and is still, Mr. Hyde Clarke. The chairman, for some time previous to his death, about six years ago, was Mr. Gerstenberg, a respectable German Jew, who was the soul of the institution. That gentleman came to an untimely end by falling through the hatchway of the engine-room of a steamer on his way from Ostend to London. After the death of Mr. Gerstenberg the next chairman was Mr. Benloch.

The corporation, as originally formed in the interests of bondholders, was in 1873 specially exempted from the Companies' Act, 1862, and registered with the word "Limited" omitted by license. In 1879 the articles of association were altered, one result, as Truth saveth, being to enable a distribution of money, in the form of salaries, to the members of the Council. The early and sublime idea of the institution was to appropriate surplus profits in promoting art, commerce, science, religion, charity, or any other useful purpose. It was on that plea the company gained its exemption from the stipulation of the Companies' Act. It does not appear that, talthough large profits have been made, much has been expended in charities or in the promotion of art or religion, or even in dividends to the original shareholders. What amounts have been paid to the directors, in the way of "testimonials" or of salaries, is at present a matter of conjecture. The gentlemen connected with the Corporation of Foreign Bondholders are all honourable men, and if the accounts are not made clear to the public, it is because the directors are not bound by the Act as a non-limited company to publish accounts or declarations of dividends.

Our friend Truth also touches on what has become another financial institution under private management. Your contemporary does not appear quite satisfied with the data General Booth has supplied to the papers in reference to the Salvation Army estimates. No one doubts for one instant General Booth's integrity, but, as in the Land League accounts, there ars items as to which the direction does not choose to satisfy public curiosity; at least, this is what I gather from Truth's analysis of the Salvation Army statements. You will have seen the correspondence between the Rev. Mr. Charlesworth and General Booth. Notwithstanding the sensation created by Mr. Charlesworth's letter in the Times, General Booth's reply is satisfactory and damaging to Mr. Charlesworth's reputation for accuracy in the recollection of facts.

I have tried hard to get a copy of the Blue Book containing the returns asked for by Mr. Rathbone in regard to the Suez Canal trade and its value to this country. You will have seen the article in the Times on the subject, which must have been made from a proof or official copy, as the people at Whitehall assure me the Blue Book is not yet in the hands of the public. What the report tends to show is what months ago I told you, on the authority of an article by Mr. M. Mulhall, and partly on the calculations made by shipowners. The Times which, in the Eyyptian question, has all along magnified the importance of the Canal to serve the interests of financialists in Egypt, labours to underrate the results of the Blue Book, which prove, in the first instance, that the proportion of the total trade of this country passing through the Canal is only from eight to nine per cent.; and with allowances for increase since 1880, and possible further increase in the future, the figure is raised to 12½ per cent. This is sufficient to silence the extravagant statements made by those who would drag us into war and annexation in the interests of a few speculators; but it must be borne in mind that the disparaging statements are, on the other hand, made in the interests of merchants and shipowners, who are jealous—and ignorantly jealous—of the additional trade and shipping employment, thrown into the hands of the Italians and French, who now import tea, silk and other Indian and China produce direct through the Canal, instead of, as formerly purchasing it in bond in England.

The Ten Associated Australian Banks have been instructed by the Government of Victoria to offer the unissued portion of the Victorio Four per Cent Railway Loan of 1881, amounting to £3,399,300, for public subscription, and tenders will be received by the London and Westminster Bank (Limited), up to Tuesday, the 6th inst., 2 p.m. The minimum price is fixed at par, including accrued interest, from the 1st January last, and the amount payable in instalments extending to the 30th June. Tenderers, as before, will have the option to take either debentures to bearer, with coupons attached, or Inscribed Stock. Trustees and others who require or prefer a registered security can invest in this security as Registrars of the Government of Victoria under the provisions of the "Colonial Stocks Act, 1877," and transferable at the Bank, either personally by the stockholders or their attorneys, precisely in the same manner as English Government Securities are treated. The Stock will be Inscribable at once, and 4 per cent. interest is to be allowed on prepayments of instalments.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent)

March 30th.

At the theatre one night, I had the curiosity to count the proportion of bald heads below me in the pit. Out of two hundred and odd individuals, two-thirds of whom at least were young men, there were sixty-five bald heads, that is to say, counting those who had lost their hair in the middle of the head up or near the apex, and those who only had the top of the head bald, enabling them to act the part of a frâte without the use of the razor. It is a circumstance worthy of observation and study how soon the men of the respectable classes here lose their hair. I think it is not too much to say that fifty per cent are bald on the top of the head before they reach the age of forty. Spanish women, on the contrary, retain their generally beautiful hair until they grow pretty old. Distinguished medical men, particularly Frenchmen, have written dissertations on the subject, but almost all their conclusions were contradicted by facts. For example Dr. Cazenave, who is the most authorized writer on hair, says that it all depends on cleanliness. Now the fact is, we all know that Indians, negroes and the lower orders of most people, are not particular about keeping their heads clean, and they generally possess thick shocks of hair until an advanced age. Other authorities say that it is an exaggerated use of cosmetics and vegetable oils that destroys the hair. Women use more cosmetics than men yet they are not so subject to baldness. In the city of New Orleans, I remember, the women, the whites, were celebrated all over the Union for their magnificent hair, equal to any the Spanish woman can boast of, and they used to dress it with large quantities of Castor oil. Baldness is becoming more general in every country where civilization has created a great variety of wants and where the brain is in a continual state of activity to supply them. My opinion then is, that it is to the greater or less activity of the brain we owe the abundance or scarcity of our capillary adornments. I would lay a wager that neither Absalom nor Samson ever wrote a novel or had ninety day Bills to take up on maturity.

The fiery-headed Dampyris, notwithstanding its brilliancy, has not succeeded in enlightening the Masters of the craft. A correspondent of the Standard heads his letter with "In re incerta" and consequently I question his right to give a name to the brute. I also submit that the word Pyrphorocephalus, which only means bearing fire in the head, does not sufficiently characterize the bicho. A name should be compounded to signify the two distinctly colored lights, one the usual and well-known phosphorescent light, and the other the coal-red of the head, which I suggested might be formed by the former passing through a red corneous substance. Then again, since I made known this curious fact I have had numerous communications from people who have found specimens, all with the characteristic fiery head, but with the white or green lights variously distributed. When I mentioned that Mr. E. White, F.Z.S., refused to believe my statement saying it was impossible, although a fact, I did not consider I was committing an outrage on the well-known infallibility of Naturalists. For myself I would not tread on their corns for the world. I humbly confess that my knowledge of the different branches into which Natural History is divided is limited to the general acquaintance which a moderately educated man possesses on those and other subjects. And am I not at all unwilling to believe that this negative circumstance has often prevented me from making an ass of myself.

Towards the end of February I told you the Clerk of the Weather had a large rain credit in his books for Santa Fé. Like an honest man he has been paying it with interest during the month of March. The temperature, notwithstanding, has been exceedingly oppressive. This month is usually the most delightful of the year; but this season has been an exception. The nasty dead heat defies a drenching. An inspired English poet, Mr. Williams, a denison of Rosario many years ago, and author of the "Gaucho of the Paraná," which you must have in your Editorial library, in one of his lines mentions:

"The balmy breath of the Northern wind,"

We all know what a beastly wind it is, turning the air into a substance as thick as curdled milk and making the process of breathing a bore. Well, that is what we are suffering in Rosario in this month, which the Clerk of the Weather tells us in his Manual, is his favorite month; a month of clear blue skies, gentle southerly breezes, diaphonous nights, when the Standard can be read by starlight without the aid of spectacles, and the good wives suspiciously and secretly spread a warm blanket on the bed.

The Police have succeeded in capturing the principal chiefs of a dangerous gang of thieves and four or five others who have committed a number of daring robberies within the last twelve months. The name of the head, or "Number One," by which he is known here, is Zicaldi; but by a certificate of baptism it appears he is an an Oriental, by the name of Domingo Atunez, and has served in General Santos' famous 5° de Cazadores. The name of the second chief is Salvi, who is said to be a most accomplished thief, while Zicaldi is as clever a blacksmith as Louis XVI. The gang is supposed to number eight or ten between actives and passives, and five individuals are in prison on suspicion of belonging to it, besides four of the principals, Zicaldi, Salvi, Ticardi and Iparraguirre. The latter appears to be a Basque, to judge by the name, which would be a pity, as the Basques are so proverbially honest. The two first, after having committed several robberies in Buenos Aires, removed for safety to Paraná, where last February they succeeded in robbing the jewellery store of Mr. Mateo Figueroa of a large amount of valuables, which were never recovered. Returning from Buenos Aires where they had gone to dispose of the booty, they established in Rosario, and organized a band with the aid of Iparraguirre, an accomplished hand, who one day would present himself as a well-to-do up country merchant, and the next as a 'changador.' Fortunately before their plans were matured, and operations commenced on a scale to be expected from such expert rogues, they were nabbed.

W. P.

THE ASSASSINATION PLOT.

SHERIDAN'S EXTRADITION

MR. AND MRS. BYRNE IN PARIS.

New York, Thursday Night.

The New York Sun argues strongly that the Phœnix Park murders were not political, and that those concerned in their perpetration are subject to extradition.

Washington, March 1.

Mr. Frelinghuysen, Secretary of State, is reported to have declared, with reference to the demand for the extradition of Mr P. J. Sheridan, that he would give the subject his earnest attention, but would make no move not required by law or treaty obligations.

In the House of Representatives, Mr Robinson, member for New York, has announced his intention of introducing a Bill declaring that the people of the United States will not tolerate the surrender of Mr Sheridan without full proof of his guilt and a guarantee for an impartial jury trial.

New York, March 1 Evening

Mr P. J. Sheridan, up to the present, remains unmolested by the authorities.

The Deputy Sheriffs have been unable to find the captain and mate of the White Star steamer Republic, against whom Thomas Douse brought an action for illegal detention on the arrival of that vessel at New York. The Republic has sailed again for England, and it is surmised that the captain and mate were concealed on board.

Paris, Thursday Night.

The Procureur de la Republique has granted the request of Mrs Byrne and her friends to be authorised to visit Mr Frank Byrne at the depot of the Prefecture of Police. When Mrs Byrne was set at liberty after her arrest in London, she came to Paris to join her husband at his lodging in the Rue St. Honore. She declares that her husband is absolutely innocent of the crime imputed to him, and affirms, as does Byrne, that he was in London when the murder in the Phœnix Park was committed. She protests strongly against the denunciation of which she, as well as her husband, is the object. She does not speak French, and, being embarrassed to make herself understood, is about to quit her present lodgings in the Rue St. Honore, to take up her abode with Mrs Casey, an Irish woman, living with her husband, who is also Irish, in the Rue du Bac. Mr Casey, who is a printer, employed in the office of a Radical journal here, has been very useful to Mrs Byrne, who, though she asserts that her husband is quite innocent, is nevertheless very anxious that the demand for his extradition should not be granted. She said to-day—"I hope France, for whom my husband fought in 1870, and who is so loved by all Irishmen, is not going to hand my husband over to England." She maintains, though his ignorance of the French language make it seems strange, that her husband really did enlist as a simple soldier in Bourbaki's Army, and that he rose to the grade of serjeant. Since December Byrne's health seems to have been bad. He then went to Cannes in search of rest and quiet, and he returned to Paris, as I have already informed you, on February 16th.

I am in possession of some supplementary details concerning Mr Byrne. It was only two days after his arrival in Paris from the South of France that he heard of Carey's denunciation and of his wife's arrest. He was at first determined to start at once for London, but was prevented by his friends, who implored him not to incur the risk. They said, "So many innocent people are hanged nowadays that it would be the height of folly to cross the Channel." Byrne was persuaded to stay here, and was soon joined by his wife. His arrest took place very shortly after her arrival. What took place on his arrival at the Prefecture of Police with his friend Davis, acting as interpreter, is of importance, and has not yet been correctly stated. They were ushered into the presence of M. Puybaraud, the Chief Secretary of the Prefect. M. Puybaraud immediately proceeded to question Byrne, who showed much surprise on hearing that he was accused of being concerned in the Phœnix Park murder. He protested that he had had no hand in it, and that he was in London when it was committed. He said, indeed, that he could prove it. Being asked who he was he said, 'I am Frank Byrne, Secretary of the Land League of the Irish in England, and not the Secretary of the English Land League. I am not guilty of any offence." Later in the day Byrne was examined by the Procureur de la Republique. He was re-examined by that functionary yesterday, and again to-day. It is stated that his friends are endeavouring to enlist the services of counsel to aid Byrne with his advice, as he is totally unacquainted with French legal procedure.

THE JAGANS OF TERRA DEL FUEGO

A TRIBE OF PECULIARLY CONSTITUTED SAVAGES.

Among the most interesting observations made by Lieut. Bove in Terra del Fuego are those on the Jagan tribe, which counts about three thousand individuals, who inhabit a portion of the southwest of the country. With slight abridgment the London Daily News gives the account in Lieutenant Bove's own words:

The Jagans impress one as a poor race. In general the men are scarcely more than of medium stature, while the women rarely reach it. The faces of this race are round, large and flat, with high cheek bones, low foreheads, large flat noses, very black and restless eyes, wide apart; large, timid lips and strong jaws, furnished with beautiful teeth. The head and chest are disproportionately large compared to the extreme slenderness of arms and legs, and it is a marvel how the latter can support the well developed trunk and head. In spite of this strange formation, both men and women have uncommon strength, and I have seen them carry weights that would have taxed the most robust of our sailors. No less surprising is the smallness of their hands and feet, which, if a beauty, is very disadvantageous to the men, who can carry only one or two objects in their hands at same time.

They have rough, lustreless black hair, which they wear long and falling over face and shoulders. Some bind it with a leather strap, but most let it grow to such an extent that they look more like furies than human beings. The men have very little beard, and that little they pluck out, while neither men or women have any hair on their bodies. They do not tatoo, but use all kinds of paint. Two or three hues of color on their face and a few necklaces of shells of birds' bones is the usual dress of the Fuegian. For protection against the terrible hurricanes, the snow that falls ten months in the year, and the heavy rains that daily visit this miserable archipelago, the Fuegian only wears a small mantle of seal or guanaco skin over his shoulders. The wigwams are only made of interwined branches fixed in some sheltered spot, but they are too weak to keep out snow and rain. These wigwams are used by the Fuegians who dwell near the few residents of Usciumata, or round the mission. The other natives scarcely ever dwell more than one or two days in the same place; they lead a vagrant life in their small canoes among the complicated canals of this broken-up country, hunting and fishing for their subsistence, of which the sea furnishes the larger part.

The women are looked upon as slaves, and the greater part of the work falls to their share. I have often seen the men sitting quietly round a good fire while the poor women were exposed in fragile skiffs to the snow, wind and waves, fishing for their idle and angry husbands. The greater number of wives or slaves a man has, the easier for him it it to find a living; hence the practice of polygamy, which is so rooted among the Fuegians that in spite of the efforts of the missionaries it is no rare thing to see a convert suddenly break through restraint and add two or more wives to the one allowed him by the new religion. But, though a Fuegian may marry as many wives as he pleases, he seldom takes more than four; and even with that small number it is difficult to preserve domestic peace. The wigwam is the scene of daily battles, and sometimes the prettiest of their wives pays with her life the preference of her husband. Sometimes, however, the wives unite against their common husband. The girls begin to hunt for husbands at ten to twelve years of age, but they only become mothers at the age of seventeen or eighteen. The men marry at fourteen or sixteen years of age.

The marriages are dictated by conveniences, and are a matter of sale and purchase rather than of love or reciprocal sympathy. The father chooses from among the suitors for his daughter the one who is the strongest, most dexterous and docile to his wishes, and fixes the number of skins to be given, and days that his son-in-law is to work for him. A canoe, spears and harpoons form the dowry of the bride. When all is settled, the bride is informed, and whatever may be her sentiments, she takes care to show no resistance to her father, and is taken away to her husband's wigwam. But generally the father's choice is also the daughter's, for nowhere do strength and dexterity make a greater impression than on the Fuegian girls, who fly from a crooked or deformed man as from an impure being—a pariah. There is no wedding ceremony. The bride simply goes to her husband's wigwam, or he establishes himself at that of her father. But some rules have to be observed. If the husband wishes to continue to eat the guanaco, or seal he must take a purifying bath in the sea the morning after his wedding. Such a bath, especially in the depth of winter, is no doubt often the cause of many of the maladies to which the young Fuegians are subject.

The Fuegian women are very prolific. Seven or eight is the average number of children, but often a still young woman will have ten or twelve. The children, however, seldom all survive their parents, for the mortality between two to ten years of age is extraordinary. The variable and frigid climate, the want of nourishment, the terrible heat, and bad treatment by the parents, are the chief causes of the death of the miserable infants, yet unarmed against the frightful struggle for existence. And another evil, introduced by civilization, has come to add to those that so ravage these unhappy natives. The smallness of the new-born children is such that childbirth is extremely easy. When the great moment arrives the future mother leaves her wigwam, accompanied by a few female friends, and seeks a secure retreat in the woods. The very next day the young mother is often seen fishing in a canoe, or gathering shell-fish along the coast.

The mother's love lasts, it may be said, until the babe is weaned, after which affection diminishes rapidly as the child grows, and is completely gone as the latter attains the age of seven or eight years. At this age the parents have no more authority over the boys, who go out and come as they like, and are never asked what they are doing. The only lasting love in the heart of a Fuegian is the love of self. How often have I seen a father devouring a piece of meat or bread, while the famishing wives and children silently watch him with their hungry eyes, timidly picking up the crumbs that fell from his mouth and darting ravenously upon the miserable remnants thrown to them by the ferocious head of the family. As there are no family ties, the word 'authority' is devoid of meaning among the Fuegians. Every family enjoys the utmost independence, and only the need of common defence induces a few families to form a small tribe. But no one has the right to set himself up as a chief and direct the actions of the others; offensive expeditions are fixed by common accord, and the products of the chase are equally distributed among those who have taken part in it.

EDITOR'S TABLE

Jupiter Pluvius took breath yesterday, but the sky looked as if he meant to be 'at it' again before long. So much the better. Heavy as the rain has been, the earth was so parched after the summer drought, that another heavy downpour will not be amiss.

We compliment the Nacion on its splendid article on the proposed new tax on cattle and sheep. We have translated it for our next issue.

We beg to thank the Committee of the St. Cloud Fetes for their kindness in sending us invitations for to-day at the Elysee Gardens. We shall most certainly avail ourselves of the courtesy, if the day prove fine, which we trust it will, for the sake of the little Orphans.

We are informed that Mr. Cassells has just concluded arrangements for the supply of Brush Electric Plant upon the Tower system, to one of our most enterprising provincial towns. The machinery has already been ordered, and the light is to be inaugurated in a few months. The cost of the illumination will not be much over the present price paid for kerosene. We shall have full particulars in a few days.

The splendid Allan liner, Grecian, made a fast run home. She left here on March 6th and arrived in Havre on last Friday morning—twenty-four days. Bravo!

At the last moment, on Friday, Mr Thomas Drysdale decided to return to Europe by the Tamar, instead of the R. M. boat of the 15th inst, and he took the river steamer to Montevideo to catch her. His daughter accompanied him, and it was for her sake that he decided to go by a direct boat, instead of on calling at Rio, where the yellow fever prevails, although not to the alarming extent represented by those who make money out of quarantine. Owing to his sudden resolution the demonstration usual when this truly good man and open-handed philanthropist arrives or departs from here, was smaller than usual; still there was a large crowd of immediate friends on the mole to wish him a pleasant voyage and speedy return, in which we heartily join. He was accompanied on board the river steamer by several members of his family and his venerable "Chaplain," the Rev. James Smith, whose time for leaving his friends here for home is now rapidly approaching.

Another prominent countryman will also soon be on "the rolling deep" on his way home. Mr Nicholas Lowe of Mercedes, to whom that town owes so much of its progress. As a proof of the esteem in which he is so justly held by his grateful fellow-townsmen, they intend to present him with a costly album, previous to his departure. No man in the country better deserves such a high compliment. "Don Nicolas" thinks far more of the public weal than of his own; and there are preciously few men now-a-days of whom this can be said.

The Rev. Father Rossi has just received from Europe a beautiful statue of St Patrick, by a a famous sculptor, for his chapel in Calle Piedad, opposite the Lacroze tramway station at Almagro. The ceremony of blessing the statue will take place to-day at 11 a.m., the "padrinos" being Don Miguel Allen and Doña Luisa de Campana.

"An æsthete has been delivering himself of an eloquent tirade against the invasion of the sacred domain of art by the meaner herd of tradespeople and miscellaneous nobodies, and finally rising to an Alpine height of scorn exclaims:

"Aye, all of you here are Philistines—mere Philistines!"

"Yes," says an old gentleman softly, we are Philistines, and I suppose that is why we are being assaulted with the jawbone of an ass."

We have to thank Messrs. Deck and Whiting, of the Gimnasio del Hogar, 202 Calle San Martin, for adding yesterday to the contents of the Standard Museum a superb steel engraving of the late President Garfield and his family. It is a beautiful work of art, and we are much indebted to the kind donors.

We received from New York yesterday a letter with inquiries in reference to Mr. Freidrick Werkle, who came here several years ago from Germany, and is supposed to be in the cattle business. His family are most anxious about him. We would feel obliged for any information.

The following is a good story about the principles of Socialism:—

"After the Revolution of 1848 an amiable Socialist took refuge in Geneva, where he began the publication of a weekly paper devoted to promulgating the great idea of the equal division of property. In due course a relative of the reformer died and left him a legacy of 15,000 frs. The paper appeared as usual next week, but there had in the meanwhile been a slight modification of the proprietor's programme. 'All property should be equally divided,' he wrote, 'share and share alike, when its value exceeds 15,000 frs.'"

A subscriber who has seen all the pavements in the world, from the asphalte of lovely Paris to the "petrified kidneys" of Buenos Ayres, says that the side-walks of this city ought to be made of wood as well as the pavement. It is pleasanter and safer than flags, and in the end not more costly. It might easily be pleasanter and safer than the flags here, which are like ice in rainy weather, and but little less slippery and dangerous in dry. The Banda Oriental quarries are inferior, and both paving-stones and flags yield quickly to friction and become polished and slippery.

We call attention to the notice in another column to the effect that the Easter Festival of St. John's Sunday School is postponed to this day week (8th), on account of the bad weather.

Bravo! The Municipality of Bahia Blanca has issued an edict that all new streets there must be 25 yards wide.

An accident occurred on Friday night in the house of our much esteemed countryman Dean Dillon. The heavy rain had soaked through the drawing-room ceiling, and, as a precaution, some of the furniture was removed; the rain during the day made matters worse, and the rest of the furniture was removed. Just as the last picture—the work of the late lamented Father Davis—was removed, down came the ceiling with a crash. Happily nobody was hurt.

Mr. Vansittart, Secretary to Her Majesty's Legation, kindly favoured us yesterday with a copy of the Parliamentary Blue Book in which his admirable and exhaustive Report on Paraguay, part of which we referred to yesterday, appears. The report has awakened a sudden interest in Paraguay, and we had several visitors yesterday on the subject. We commend it to our German colleague the Deutsche Zeitung, as it will afford the talented editor of that paper an excellent opportunity of correcting his many erroneous impressions about Paraguay, where some thousands of his countrymen are settled and doing splendidly.

It is said that General Mitre will go to the United States from Chile, then to Europe, and won't return here for a year.

Governor Roach will go on a trip to Azul and Bahia Blanca next month. He will return sorry that he did not select the latter place for a Capital of the Province.

The Paris papers announce that the War Minister has summarily expelled all foreigners who were employed in the Arsenals.

The rain has knocked the legs from under the new barranca on which the new Plaza Once Station is built. It has given away considerably, and the tramway to the station has sunk so much as to be useless. The sooner the trains run to the Central Station the better. The Once Station does not satisfy the public, and is, in fact, a wretched excuse for and parody of a metropolitan terminus for a great trunk line, with such a large revenue.

The newest sensation in Epicurean circles is "High Life Liqueur," a home-made beverage now to be found in all fashionable dwellings, and which Messrs. John D

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral

Well-known all over the world for the prompt cure of the following diseases:

Coughs, Colds, Catarrhs, Inflammation of the Lungs, Bronchitis and Incipient Consumption, and also for the relief of those suffering from Chronic Consumption even in its Most Advanced Stage.

In the various affections of the Throat and Lungs, its employment in the first stage is always sure to arrest the disease, which makes Dr. AYER'S Cherry Pectoral a most desirable medicine to have always at hand. Those who have used this medicine knowing well its efficacy, declare they are never without it at home and never fail to recommend it to their friends suffering from any of the above diseases.

Medical men who know well the formula by which it is compounded, and the beneficial effects from its employment, never fail to prescribe Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It is also frequently recommended by those of the Clergy who have used it. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is also remarkable in its Senatory effects, arresting as it is sure to do, the ravages of epidemic affections of the Throat and Lungs, thus making it the most efficacious medicine which can be employed.

NOTICE

Having secured the legal concessions for its patents and fully protected its rights in the Argentine Republic, the Brush Electric Company is now prepared to enter into contracts for the supply and erection of Electric Plant in this country, both for public and private illumination, through its legally authorised representative and concessionaires

W. R. CASSELS

91——Calle Maipu——91

BUENOS AIRES.

THE BRUSH ELECTRIC LIGHT is being rapidly and very extensively adopted in all the principal cities of the United States. In more than thirty towns and small cities it is now exclusively employed for the entire public illumination. The excellence and value of the Brush Light and system is now placed beyond all possible question.

Over 18,000 Brush Arc-lamps are at present in use in the United States alone, and about one hundred Companies have been formed there to supply the light as their regular business. The Stocks of these Companies are either quoted at a considerable premium or are not in the market at all, while it is estimated that the earnings of these lamps exceeded four millions of dollars gold during the past year.

The manufacture and supply of the apparatus for the new SYSTEM of STORING ELECTRICITY, lately invented by Mr. Brush, has just been commenced by this Company, for which purpose new and very extensive works containing 900 H. P. have been erected. This system inaugurates a new era in the field of electrical applications, which, with it will make more rapid advances than they have done even within the past three years.

ON 'CHANGE.

March 31st, 1883

Patacon	25.00
Cedulas A	100
Cedulas E	86¼
National Bank Shares	103½

To-day the month's liquidation closed, and the most remarkable feature was the sudden rise in Cedulas Series E, which closed yesterday evening at 85½, having sold down as low as 85½, and this morning at once advanced to 86½; the money to take up a large amount falling due to-day having been found this morning. The "vencimientos" for the month marked on the black board were as follows:—

Cedulas A 72,000
Cedulas E 1,816,000, last month 1,301,000
Bank Shares 61,290, last month 42,670

And the liquidating prices established were—

Cedulas E 86, last month 85

Bank Shares 103½, last month 105½

We can always gather something from a comparison of the foregoing figures. Cédulas were cheaper and less dealt in than this, whilst National Bank Shares were dearer in February, although the vencimientos were smaller than now. A glance, however, at the record of the market on this day last year is most instructive: Gold was par, Cedulas A 100, Series E 86, and Nat. Bank Shares 113, but the close of the liquidation a year ago was a tremendous business, Mr. Passmann was the liquidator's auctioneer, several thousand shares were sold, and one or two brokers went down on that memorable day. Some idea of the difference in the business of the Bolsa then and now may be found when we compare the vencimientos in shares, which in March, 1882, reached it was estimated 200,000 shares, against a 'friolera' of 61,290 shares now.

The liquidation to-day passed off most harmoniously; many of the brokers complain of the very little business doing, outsiders rather shun the share market, and a few have gone into Series E, but upon the whole the business of the Bolsa now is not one half what it was a year ago.

Cedulas E. opened for cash at 85½, and kept advancing until the bell rang, closing firm at 86½, and for end April 86½. The sales reached 134,310, which closed the liquidation account. Nat. Bank shares opened at 103, advanced to 103½, and closed at 103½, and shortly after 2 o'clock were sold at 103 cash. For end of April they opened at 105, dropped to 104½, and closed at 105, but shortly after 2 o'clock, they were sold at 104½. The whole day's business only amounted to 6,650 shares.

The best news on 'Change to-day was the arrangement of the Transandine Railway difficulty, and the immediate commencement of the works; this and the recent great rain put everyone in good humour.

Exchange on Montevideo was done at 2½ prem. to the drawer, which shows how the market stands; everyone here says that the National Bank in Montevideo will assuredly be carried out, and that the present crisis down there is purely artificial, and only produced by the banks who oppose the scheme, but the National Bank, they say, is coming, and Mr Smithers in London signs for a powerful syndicate of £, who will able to carry the scheme out.

Three of our banks have telegraphed to London for gold; Napoleons sold yesterday at 2 per cent prem.; sovereigns in demand at 2½, but none to be had in the market. The Nat. Minister of Hacienda has received per Esk 4 cases of bar gold for the National Mint. This will always be a help to the market. H.E. has established himself in his new offices, in the Government House, and has applied to the Provincial Government for some of the public lands about town and port of Bahia Blanca, whereon to erect the Nat. Government Offices, Custom House, deposits, etc., buildings most necessary for that place.

The sales at the ring were as follows:—

Cedulas—
For cash A 28,750 at 100
For cash E 77,600 at 85½-86-½-⅝-½
For April 30th A 3,000 at 100
For April 30th E 25,000 at 86-¼
Sales, 134,350
Vencimientos, Series E $f.1,816,000.
Liquidation, Series E 86
Vencimientos, Series A $f.72,000

National Bank Shares—
For cash 4,300 at 103-½-⅝-¾-½
For April 30th 2,350 at 105-104½-½-105
Sales, 6,650
Vencimientos, 61,290
Liquidation, 103½

The Minister, it seems, notified the Bolsa yesterday of the discovery of rich gold mines in the provinces, with the laudable view of starting a joint stock company to work same. The step, although unusual, is a good one, but the spirit of joint-stock association is at the moment dormant, owing to some of our chief joint-stock mediums being still without their money which they incautiously invested in shares in the late Industrial Exhibition, and which but for their enterprise and support would never have adorned that old gold mine of B. Aires, the Plaza Once Setiembre, when these spirited shareholders get back their money; the attempt to start another joint-stock Argentine company will doubtless be more successful than at the moment.

Our colleague, the Nacion, gives the following late London telegram:—

Argentine, 1868 6 o/o	100¼	-101
Do '71, do	97	- 98
Do 1881, do	96½	- 97
Do '72, do Hard Dol.	87	- 87½
B. Aires, 1870 6 o/o	99	-100
Treasury Bills 9 o/o	108	-110

This was a very busy Saturday, and at all the banks there was a very large movement. The payments on 'Change were also very large; and between exchange and produce there seems to have been much done during the week.

The Mint has received from the Minister orders to pay a large sum National gold to the Provincial Bank to balance the account current.

It rained all day in Montevideo, according to the telegrams, and people were not sure that the Tamar would get off. Mr. Thomas Drysdale, who left last night in Montevidean steamer, sails for Europe in Tamar, as she goes direct.

The Times of March 5th has some very cogent remarks about the gold market in New York, showing that the specie reserve of the banks has fallen off, and is now under what the law demands.

Mr Arthur J. Vansittart's Report to the Foreign Office on Paraguay, extracts from which we gave this morning, has attracted great attention, and several parties have called on us for a copy of it. Our extracts we took from a leading London financial paper. We hold only one copy of the Report, but possibly at the British Legation copies can be obtained.

The Allan steamer Grecian, which sailed from Montevideo on 6th March, arrived at Havre on 30th inst., after a good passage of 24 days.

Discount brokers report money lent to-day on stocks on call at 9 per cent.

We are much indebted to Mr Chapeaurouge for a copy of his beautiful map of Santa Fe, shewing the new frontier lines of that province and all the various estancias clearly marked thereon; the map is on sale at Messrs Makern's, and adorns the wall of our office. Parties wishing to look for their properties can now find same by studying this excellent map.

We have received from London the Tenth Annual Report of the Corporation of Foreign Bondholders. There may be some of our readers interested in the book.

Advices from Santiago del Estero are very favourable. The Railway works are pushing ahead very fast, and business was never brisker. Some 15 new houses of business have been started up there, of which five are large wholesale concerns started with capital from this market.

The British steamer Marana has cleared for Dunkirk with the large number of 4,000 bales of wool. All the barraqueros and brokers report the wool market very firm and looking upwards. The total arrivals of wool this season are about 100,000 arrobes in excess of same time last year. This shows what we always maintained, that spite of everything the wool clip increases.

The receipts of the Government House for this month have reached the magnificent figure of 1½ millions patacones. We do remember, not many years ago, when the dream of our statesmen was a million a month for our Custom House; soon we suppose at the rate we are going our Custom House will give 2 millions per month.

The sale of 4 leagues of National Gov. land in the 4th Section is reported for 400,000 $, and the following lands have been designated or, as they term it, 'ubicared'—

"A D Otto Bemberg, lots 22 and 23, fraction C, 9th Section.

"A D Juan F Gualdey, lots 11, 12 and 13, fraction B, 8th Section.

"A D Jose Antonio Salas, the three leagues North angle, East, North-West and South-West from lot No. 2, fraction B, 3rd Section.

"A D Martin Bernevido, lots 3 and 4 of the 4th Section.

"A D Dionisio Guglielmetti, lot 14, fraction A of the 2nd Section.

"A Da. Maria Robson, lot 14, fraction A, 3rd Section.

"A D Juan Shaw é hijos, lots 59, 60, 61, 80, 81, 82 and 83, first of the 4th Section."

The sale also of 3 leagues of land in the 2nd Section for 240,000 $ is reported; also about ... league in Bahia Blanca for 17,000 $.

Next week many Bolsa friends leave for Europe; Mr Peter Gandara, Mr Emilio Martinez and Mr J B Gahan; also Sr. Don Juan Pena, Sra. and family. We wish them all a pleasant trip and hope they will soon return.

At afterhours National Bank Shares grew very hard owing to the purchase cash of 500 shares by an English broker that revived the bulls. Prices rose to 104½ for Monday, 104 cash, and 105½ for April, and from 3 to 4,000 shares bought and sold. Through some mistake by the brokers in their Liquidation, 100 shares had to be sold by auction to close the liquidation. Mr. Fariña, the popular broker, mounted the rostrum and knocked them down at 103½, and this closed the ides of March for 1883. The real essence of this liquidation and the lesson to be derived in the gigantic falling off of business in the stock, which is held up in the market by borrowed money, and which will continue to rule weak and flat until some really strong parties enter the market, as in former days, and take for their account say 20,000 shares. Cedulas were not so firm at afterhours, and sales were made at 86¾ and ⅞, but not much done. This stock also lives on borrowed money, and the whole business in stocks this month has been carried on by people who have the money, and who either bought cash, selling the same moment for end of April, and thus making 15 to 20 per cent interest, or who lent their money to brokers who understood and knew how to work the business. We know brokers who made 3,000 pats this month in this line, and who hold 400,000 Cedulas sold for end of April which they could deliver to-morrow if asked for the stock.

Cedulas are such a favorite stock that, even supposing Dr Llambi Campbell does not effect the business in London he proposed, we don't think Series A. or E. will much suffer. The private letters from London speak unfavorably of the prospects, and so far the looked-for telegrams has not come from London. Yet nothing could better prove the great strength of the market than the heavy delivery to-day, and in the face of which prices, instead of falling, rose. Freights very firm, plenty of produce offering, and large wheat engagements spoken of for Rosorio; the rates show no alteration.

Exchange nothing done to-day, it being the end of the month, and the Royal Mail having only just left.

Mr Tudor, who has just arrives in from the South, was enveloped on friends when he entered the hall.

The Tamar took the following cargo:—

For Vigo—
226 bags wheat
6,010 dry hides

For London—
59 bales sheepskins
50 bales wool
300 cases preserved meat

For Antwerp—
294 bales wool
2 bales nonatos
7,800 salted hides
500 dry hides
150 pipes tallow
1,793 bags linseed
3,098 bags wheat
222 bags turnip

And from Montevideo—
300 bales wool and sheepskins
3,000 salted hides

The Holbein cleared from Rosario with the following cargo:—

For Liverpool and Antwerp—
6,000 bags wheat
320 bales wool
4,500 hides
1,620 bultos minerals
50 rebobos plata pina.

Nothing as yet done about the City Improvement Works, and much interest taken in the decision of the Cabinet.

The market learns with pleasure that Dr Plaza, Minister of Foreign Affairs, will henceforward publish quarterly the reports of Argentine Consuls abroad for the general information of the market; it is a most capital move.

President Roca's letter to the Correntino Committee, declining to support the candidature of his brother for the post of Governor of Corrientes, is another proof of his excellent common sense. Every line of his letters shows the thoroughly sound views he tak

The London and River Plate Bank, Limited, Buenos Aires.

This Company having purchased all the property, rights, patents, privileges and concessions in the Argentine, Uruguay and Paraguay Republics, formerly the property of the Companies known as the "Pantelephone," and the "Bell Perfeccionado," is prepared to sell or lease telephones or telephone lines or use in any part of the Argentine Republic, the Banda Oriental or Paraguay. It possesses exclusive rights for all of these countries for the Bell and Blake Telephones, known throughout the Plate as the Bell Perfeccionado,

The only instrument used in the United States

And by the United Telephone Company of England and by nearly all the principal Telephone Exchanges of the world.

The company is now receiving the largest shipments; it is believed, of telephone material ever obtained at one time by any Company existing, including 650 complete sets of telephone instruments, 1000 miles of wire, 40 miles of cable conductor, and switch board and Central Office appliances all of latest and best manufacture.

The Company is not subsidiary to any other, and is under no obligation to purchase its supplies from any particular source.

It proposes to furnish the public of Buenos Aires with the best telephonic instruments obtainable, and the best service practicable.

Thus far, in consequence of the lack of Bell instruments, only four hundred of its nearly one thousand subscribers have been supplied.

The Pan instruments in use by the remainder will now as rapidly as possible be replaced by the Bell and a better service than any heretofore known in Buenos Aires will be the result.

Any information desired will be most cheerfully afforded on application in person, or by letter at the Company's offices 26 and 28 Calle San Martin.

Buenos Aires, March 25, 1883.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado, por orden de su propietario.

El area de campo arriba indicado compuesto de 7 leguas y 88 cuadras, situado en la Provincia de Cordoba en el Rio Cuarto, pedania de Toyna y Peñas, campo de primer orden, sin medanos, ni sierra, cubierto de pastos con una poblacion, existiendo alli un rodeo de vacas que sirvira para mostrar la calidad de la hacienda, nacidas en esos mismos campos, un pozo con abundante agua, por las fuertes vertientes que tiene.

Esta campo queda en el angulo que forman los ferro-carriles Central Argentino y Andino, y dista de las estaciones Chañares de la primera linea y Velez Sarsfield de la segunda, lindando por el Norte con los deshechos del Rio 3º por el Sud con Don Pablo Rodriguez, por el Este con Jose Ferreira, y por el Oeste con los Sres. Aramburu.

Creemos escusado demostrar las ventajas que ofrece un campo en estas condiciones y que puede comprarse por un precio tan bajo como el que se ha ajado para la venta, que son dos mil quinientos ps. fuertes la legua cuadrada.

Titulos de primer orden.
